Resources for Independent Living (RIL) is a community-based organization serving people with disabilities. Our core services are independent living skills training, information and referral, transition, peer support, and advocacy. Membership is open to all people with disabilities, their able-bodied friends, and supporters. We promote personal growth, empowerment, self-determination, education, skills development, and networking opportunities. RIL provides people with disabilities the means for self-choice, self-direction, and self-reliance in
